

BILLS TO PAY CASH
MAY FAIL TO PASSIMPORTANT APPROPRIATION MEASURES IN DANGER.

Time of the Session Drawing to an End With Work Unfinished—Rush in the House Begins Today—Hawaii Minister Talks—Other Washington News.

Washington, Feb. 18.—There is beginning to be a slight uneasiness on the democratic side of the senate that some of the appropriation bills may fail. There remains only twelve more working days of the session and four of the most important of these bills are still entirely unconsidered in the senate. These are the Indian, the sundry civil, the legislative and the general deficiency bills, each of them considered as more likely to afford ground for debate than any of the appropriation bills which have already received attention. The anxiety is not yet, however, extremely pronounced. The democratic managers expect to gain considerable time by moving at an early day for 11 o'clock sessions and following this soon by prolonging the daily sessions at night. If it becomes apparent that the Indian bill will require time proportionate to that put in on the postoffice or District of Columbia bill, the motion for earlier meetings, which is already pending, will be pressed early in the week.

The proposition for any general legislation such as the proposed bill on mining, territorial admission, Pacific railroad, navy personnel, and bankruptcy bills are growing smaller and smaller every day. There will be a strong effort to get up and dispose of the pooling bill, but there will be determined opposition, and some of its best friends are growing discouraged. The probabilities for the week also include a cursory discussion of the territorial bills, but the prospects are against their passage. There are several financial bills and resolutions which may be called up, and the rules of the senate permit such latitude of debate as to make it probable that they may be injected at any time, regardless of the measure in hand.

There is still occasional reference to the agreement which came so near being completed Thursday last for a two days' debate at the beginning of the week on the finance bill, with a vote at the close, and the measure may be revived with or without unanimous consent. Senator Jones still insists that either his bill shall be considered on its merits or that its opponents shall show their indisposition to consider it by filibustering against it. Senator Vias has also given up the idea of introducing up his gold bond bill to-day, and in doing so is liable to precipitate a financial discussion at the beginning of the week's work. Altogether the outlook is for a busy week in the senate.

RUSH IN THE HOUSE BEGINS TO-DAY

Request for Unanimous Consent to Bills Likely to Be Numerous.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The rush of the closing days of the session begins to-day. In the house for the last week reports have been coming in from the consideration of bills by unanimous consent. This week the rush will be more apparent whenever the regular appropriation bills, conference reports, and other privileged matters are up before the house. But two appropriation bills are yet undiscussed by the house, and the naval and general deficiency. The former has been considered for two days and it will probably require two more (Tuesday and Wednesday), today under the rules being suspension day. The general deficiency bill, which will follow, will take up the last week. Reports will consume the rest of the week unless another opportunity is given to the Pacific Railway committee to secure a vote on the refunding bill, which has been again reported favorably, with an amendment in the shape of a proposition for the Union Pacific to settle the account with the government by the payment of the principal of the debt due. Among the bills upon which action will be asked under suspension of the rules to-day is the bill reported from the committee on pensions to equalize the pay of Mexican veterans.

Thurston Denies the Torture Story.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The story that prisoners accused of complicity in the Hawaiian revolution have been tortured in Honolulu to extort confessions is discredited here. "It is preposterous," said Minister Thurston, "to suppose that such an affair could escape the attention of the alert correspondents who represent American papers. Such a thing as torturing prisoners is unknown in the history of the islands."

WORK AT SPRINGFIELD.

Most Important Measure in the Senate Is the Police Bill.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—The business of the senate this week will be mainly of a routine character. The committees prior to last week did not do much, but it is anticipated the coming week will be the busiest thus far of the session. Wells' bill to prevent the manufacture of any article that is taken into the mouth will come up for passage. No amendments have been offered to it since its introduction, either in committee or on the floor. There is some opposition to it that was manifested in committee, when several refused to vote for or against it. In the house Mr. Pickrell's bill to place express companies, as common carriers, under the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners will come up on first reading probably Wednesday. Another bill to come up in the house is Mr. Bailey's bill to prevent corporations from paying their employees in store orders or time checks. This is on its first reading.

For a Joint Seal Commission.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Important action upon the seal fisheries of the Behring sea was taken Saturday by the house committee on ways and means. It was agreed to authorize the President to invite the government of Great Britain, Russia and Japan to unite with the United States in sending a joint commission to investigate the seal fisheries of the North Pacific and Behring sea. The President will be authorized to arrange a modus vivendi with these powers for the protection of the seals until the report of the commission has been made and acted upon.

INSANE MAN ON A TRAIN.

Dr. Barney of Boston Makes a Fight on a Locomotive.

Chatham, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The conductor, engineer, and fireman on the Boston express bound west on the Boston & Albany railroad had a desperate encounter here last night with a passenger who had become insane, and boarding the locomotive announced his intention of running the train to suit himself. The man was Dr. G. L. Barney of Boston, who is connected with the Harvard Medical school. He was a through passenger from Boston and was bound for Haviland, Kan. After the train had left Springfield he asked the conductor if he could follow him through. The conductor granted the request. Barney followed the conductor as far as the baggage car and then complained that the train was going too slow. When the train into Chatham the doctor darted forward toward the engine and grasped the fireman and pulled him away above his head and threw him back on the tender. He then shouted that he would run the train to suit himself. The conductor and engineer wrestled with the crazy man, but he evaded their grasp, and, grasping the coal shovel, began hurling shovelfuls of coal at the half-open door of the firebox. With the assistance of all the train hands he was finally overpowered.

FUNERAL OF EX-GOV. GRAY.

Remains Will Lie in State in Indianapolis—Services at Union City.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Gov. Matthews, Mayor Connelley, with ex-Senator Shockney and Col. William Harris, representing the citizens of Union City, were in conference yesterday with Pierre Gray relative to the funeral of his father, Isaac Pusey Gray. It was arranged that with the consent of Mrs. Gray the body should lie in state at the state house until the next morning. Friday the remains will be taken to Union City, where the funeral will be held in the opera house, being conducted by the Rev. Mr. McDonald of the Presbyterian church. The state officers will hold a meeting to-day to make further arrangements. The governor will appoint the honorary pall bearers.

Figat Probably Took $150,000.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 18.—It is now quite certain that C. M. Figat, the defaulting cashier of the Bank of Lexington, stole about $150,000 from that institution. He got away with $30,000 capital stock and nearly $70,000 belonging to depositors. The developments show that Figat's stealings cover a period of twenty-five years and depositors are angry with the directors for having failed to detect what was going on. The bank is left with only $6,000 in cash. Business in the community is almost paralyzed on account of the wreck of this financial institution. Figat is supposed to have gone to Chicago.

Wyoming Legislature to Adj.

J., and Boston over the next meeting of the league, and this contest will bring hundreds of wheelmen who otherwise would not attend.

London, Feb. 18.—A dispatch to the Standard from Constantinople says that Turkish officials will present to the Armenian commission a declaration that the stories of the recent outrages are exaggerated. The dispatch adds that the declaration was signed by ignorant Armenian refugees, who were informed it was a petition to the Sultan enforcing the quarantine regulations against cholera.

In the evening the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and it is estimated that his hearers numbered 25,000 people during the day. WANTS A BIG PRICE FOR THE FAIR WILLSTOLEN DOCUMENT HELD FOR $15,000 RANSOM.

Son of the Senator Receives an Unsigned Letter to that Effect—Missouri Mob Lynch a Murderer—John and Joe Slaughterback Narrowly Escape the Halter.

San Francisco, Feb. 18.—Charles Fair this morning received an anonymous communication offering to return his father's will for $15,000.

Kingston, Mo., Feb. 18.—A mob of masked men, supposed to be negroes from Hamilton, surrounded the sheriff's house and jail here at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, caught and bound Sheriff Goldworthy, whose deputy was away, took the keys from him, and gained entrance to the jail corridor with the avowed intention of taking out and hanging George Tracy, a negro who shot and killed his wife at Hamilton, in this county, the morning of Jan. 30. On the inside the mob was unable to get into the steel cell in which Tracy was confined with two other negro prisoners. Tracy crawled under his bed and the mob shot through the bars of his cell and succeeded in putting seventeen bullets into his body, killing him instantly. The sheriff made all the resistance he could, but was overpowered. The two prisoners in the cell with Tracy escaped. Tracy was a bad character and had lately served a jail sentence for shooting a negro. He had some years ago lost both his legs just below the knees, being run over by a train he was trying to board to escape some Kansas officers.

SAVES HIS PRISONER.

Men Who Shot Niblack at Wheatland, Ind., Have a Narrow Escape.

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 18.—The men who shot John H. Niblack Friday night while attempting to rob his father's store at Wheatland were captured at daylight near Lawrence County, Ill. They were taken back to Wheatland, and to the bedside of Mr. Niblack, who is yet living and may recover. Niblack identified them. Their names are Joe and Nick Slaughterback, brothers who live near Bruceville, a neighboring village. When it was known the right men were in custody a mob was speedily made up to lynch the prisoners, but the constable seeing the condition of affairs, hustled the prisoners out the back way and brought them to this city in a carriage.

ANOTHER BLIXT CONFESSION

Miss Wachtler, the Stenographer, Says He Told Adry Was the Principal.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—Miss Wachtler, the witness in the Hayward case who was not permitted to testify Saturday, and over whose testimony there promises to be a legal battle of no mean proportions between Erwin and the state's attorneys, was seen last night and from her the fact was elicited that Blixt made another confession, which changes the whole course of events if it is allowed in the trial of Harry. She claims that Blixt stated to her in answer to a question from his attorney that Adry Hayward put him up to the job of murdering Miss Gling. It was planned previously to the tragedy and all of the details agreed upon almost exactly as stated by Blixt on the stand excepting that the name of Adry should be substituted for that of Harry in the confession. Miss Wachtler will be placed on the stand to-day and Mr. Erwin will argue with the court as to whether or not she can testify as to what Blixt said while she was taking his statement. If the court holds with him it will create a precedent whereby stenographers employed by attorneys will have to be kept in the dark as regards all statements between attorneys and their clients. In addition to this there will be some evidence in regard to those "bloody" clothes which it has always been stated Sheriff Ege found out near Lake Calhoun. It now transpires Mr. Ege did not find the clothing referred to, but that the discovery was made by Daniel F. Darling, an abstractor for the Minnesota Title Insurance company. He will be placed on the stand to describe how he found them, give the location of the scene, and describe the marks about the place.

CRUISERS IN FAVOR.

England and France Try to Imitate Ours.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The British and French have taken alarm at the splendid performance of the two new United States triple-screw cruisers, the Columbia and the Minneapolis.

For a long time this great departure in naval engineering so successfully practiced by Engineer-in-Chief Melville was looked upon with suspicion by foreign naval powers, and indeed there were many critics in the United States navy who predicted the failure of the vessels, but now all opposition seems to have disappeared and both Great Britain and France are about to build vessels of this type and are even endeavoring to improve upon the originals. The British naval program for this year includes the construction of four improved Blenheims, the Blenheim being a sister ship to the armored cruiser Blake, which took part in the naval review in 1892.

The French naval authorities are also about to build two cruisers. The French vessels are to have triple screws, to be of a displacement of from 5,500 to 8,300 tons, with 26,000 horse power, which, it is estimated, will give them a speed of twenty-eight knots, which is about the maximum attained by the American commerce destroyers. The British vessels will be smaller than the French craft, about twenty-six feet shorter and with 1,000 less horse power, and the calculated speed is twenty-two knots.

The British newspapers, however, are calling attention to the fact that this is a knot less speed than the American vessels, urging that it be increased, as the British craft can not afford to be outfooted, even if the foreign vessels are owned by a power with which Great Britain is never likely to be at war.

The naval board convened by Secretary Herbert to consider the subject of dispensing with wood in the construction of the naval ships now building, and also for the purpose of finding some suitable substitute for wood in place where it is impracticable to use metal, is making fair progress.

Since the naval action fought off the mouth of the Yalu river between the Chinese and Japanese fleets, during which several ships were disabled and thrown out of action by serious fires on board, the matter has received much attention at home and abroad. The German admiralty has convened a board to find some proper substitute for wood; in the mean time the use of wood on their ships has ceased altogether, even the furniture being made of iron and cork being used where a non-conductor is absolutely necessary. The English have not yet taken any definite action but are casting about for some substitute for wood. The French have for a long time used a minimum of wood and in all foreign ships less wood has probably been used than in those of our service.

The problem is not an easy one. While there is little doubt that the abolition of all combustible material will add to the fighting efficiency of ships of war, it is equally sure that if this were done they would be uninhabitable. Owing to the good conducting properties of iron and steel, the living quarters, if not sheathed with some non-conductor, would become intensely cold in winter and very hot in summer.

Dr. Everett Is Billious.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The Post says: "The worst indignation that has ever been put upon Chicago was cast upon it by Dr. Everett of Massachusetts in his speech in the house yesterday on the naval appropriation bill, when he referred to the city by the lake as 'the liver of the nation.' The remark caused the Chicago delegation to feel sorely aggrieved, but they concluded that if the doctor would vote for the proposition to add the caravels to the bric-a-brac of the Chicago museum they would swallow the insult."

Santa Fe Passengers Injured.

KUEHN WANTS THE MONEY.

Husband of One of the Elbe's Victims Asks Letters of Administration.

New York, Feb. 18.—The first application for letters of administration out of the disaster to the North German Lloyd steamer Elbe has been presented in the surrogate court by Frederick August Kuehn, husband of Mary Louise Kuehn. He presented an affidavit to show that there was to her credit with Bankers Knauth, Nachod & Kuhn 4,200 marks, equal to about $1,000.

He also presented an affidavit made by his wife's brother, from Germany, in which he declared that his sister had sailed on the Elbe and a certificate from the steamship company to the effect that she was one of the passengers and was not among the saved. There was also a letter written from Germany written by Mrs. Kuehn just previous to the time that she sailed on the Elbe. She seemed to have a presentiment that the vessel would never reach this country, for she said that in case anything should happen to the vessel she had deposited 4,200 marks with the bankers.

Before passing upon the application it is the desire of the surrogates to adopt some rule as to the evidence that will be required to establish the death of these persons who may have been passengers on the Elbe so that it will apply to all other applications that may be made of a similar character.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 18.—A race war that is attracting much attention in southwest Texas is in progress at Uvalde, the county seat of Uvalde county, west of here, between the white and Mexican patrons of the public schools.

The white citizens are very indignant because the school trustees permit the Mexican children to attend the same schools as white children and many of the latter have been taken out of school on that account. A mass meeting of the white citizens was held yesterday and a united protest made against the mixture of the two races. The school trustees refuse to recede from their position in the matter and the trouble will be carried to higher authority.

MATTHEWS DENIES IT.

Says He Has Not Been Tendered the Mexican Mission.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 19.—A story was published to the effect that Gov. Matthews had been tendered the position of Minister to Mexico left vacant by the death of Minister Gray. Gov. Matthews when interviewed, disclaimed all knowledge of the subject, and, besides deprecating the discussion of the matter so soon after the death of Minister Gray, he also said he was doubtful of the propriety of accepting such an appointment, had it been tendered, and leaving the office to which he had been elected with the expectation that he continue in it. The report, however, was given as on high authority.

At the joint caucus held Wednesday night the advocates of a partisan system in state institutions carried their point by a vote of 49 to 26, there being about ninety-five members present out of a total of 112. When the action of the caucus was known there was considerable expression of feeling, especially from those members who were in favor of non-partisan control. ## MRS. BOND'S SONGS WIN HER PRAISE

CHICAGO HERALD GAVE HER A NICE NOTICE.

Work that She Begun to Help Her Husband Through the Business Depression Has Resulted in Her Making a Name for Herself—Some of the Pieces.

Under the head of "Rare Musical Talent" the Chicago Herald of yesterday, gives Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond the following kindly notice:

"Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond happens to be a woman who believes in preferring the letter p to the word luck and taking her chances for success on the venture. It is not talent alone nor any great gift or achievement that is worth recording, and the great number of discouraged ones who are 'down on their luck' would do well to remember this. A talent without the pluck to push it and the persever-ence to patiently work for its recognition is like a roast of meat without a fire to roast it, or a well of water without a vessel to carry it away in.
"Mrs. Bond is the plucky and persevering wife of a physician whose practice is appointed among the miners of northern Michigan. Owing to harsh times, and the consequent closing of many of the mines, the doctor's business prospects have waned, and this added to other conditions,
has brought reverse to their home.
His wife, with a talent for composing,
has started out in spite of many protests to mend matters by making her gift available. So great has been her success that, after six weeks spent in Chicago, she is about returning home flying the banner of assured success.
Mrs. Bond has written several very pretty songs, one of which called 'Is My Dolly Dead?' is to be sung by Miss Vaughn among the latter's specialties of '1492.' A tender little lulaby song, entitled 'A Mother's Cradle Song,' has been published by a well known music firm and will without doubt, meet with instant recognition from all lovers of crooning melodies.

"Mrs. Bond has studied art, and practiced her profession for many years in Janesville, Wis., from which place she removed to Iron Mountain, Mich., on the occasion of her marriage, some six years ago. She has achieved a well merited success in the sale of hand-painted china, a branch of the art of decoration in which she excels.
She depends, however, upon the sale of her music for the revenue which shall float her little craft out of the troubled waters into deep sea soundings. Mrs. Bond has nearly forty instrumental compositions ready for publication, some of them very difficult.
These are all spoken of in the highest terms by musical people who have been permitted to listen to them.
Among the number may be mentioned the '1492 March,' 'The Dream of a Waltz' and 'The Arizona.'

"The lady merits all the success that can come to her and, if a womanly address, a quick eye for opportunities, and an unostentatious dignity which, while it never depreciates, at the same time never vaunts her own gifts, has anything to do with the secret of her accomplishment, it is well to make the fact known that others, taking heart from her record may go and do likewise."

CAPTAIN JACK'S ENTERTAINMENT

The Post Scout Pleased a Janesville Audience Saturday Night.

Captain Jack Crawford cemented his hold on the hearts of Janesville people when he appeared at the Myers Grand Saturday night. Since his first appearance here, the "Post Scout" has been a Janesville favorite. A goodly audience heard him Saturday night, he appearing under the auspices of W.
H. Sargent Post. E. O. Kimberly introduced him and although he was suffering from a bad cold "Captain Jack's" stories had lost none of their charm. The program was a varied one and included "The Veteran and His Son or Why We Wear the Badge," "Thirty Years Ago," "Ye Sons of Old Scotland," "Dot Little Crippled Boy That Died," and "Bicycle Versus Broncho." In addition Captain Jack told of his own life in the west and related stories of noted frontiersmen that he had met. "The Miner's Letter," one of the Captain's songs was sung in a charming manner by E. O.
Kimberly, Miss Mae McGregor furnishing the accompaniment.

READ AND WATERMAN MAY BE HERE

Story Teller and Poet Likely To Visit Janesville.

Janesville is likely to be favored with a visit by Opie P. Read and Nixon Waterman, and C. A. Gilbert, of Chicago, is now here representing them.
Mr. Read, who was formerly editor of the "Arkansas Traveler," is one of the best known writers and story tellers in the country. His southern stories have made him famous, and his lecture tours are one continual round of success. Nixon Waterman is one of the famous versifiers of the United States, with poetic ability on a par with James Whitcomb Riley, has the rare talent of being able to recite it himself. Read and Waterman are one of the strongest teams on the platform, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Gilbert will decide to bring them here.

In these days of telephone, telegraph, electricity and steam, people cannot afford to wait days or as many hours for relief. This is our reason for offering you One Minute Cough Cure. Neither days, nor hours, or even minutes elapse before the relief is afforded. C. D. Stevens.

C. & N. W. DEPOT WAS ON FIRE.

But as Usual the Department Got There In Time to Save It.

The palatial passenger depot of the Chicago & Northwestern railway had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire at 12:30 o'clock this morning. A passing locomotive threw a shower of live coals on the roof and a few minutes later flames were seen in a half dozen places. An alarm was turned in from box 15, and a fire department responded in time to extinguish the fire with chemicals before any serious damage was done. Even the frescoing on the walls of the ladies' parlors, over which the fire was burning most fiercely, was not damaged. Agent Potter was selling tickets this morning as usual, and did not know of the fire until informed by he night watchman, William Burrell.

MRS. O. C. FORD HAS A FINE OFFER

Chicago Publishers Want Her Poetry Arranged to Music.

Mrs. O. C. Ford and son Robbie left on the early morning train for Chicago, where she expects to remain about six weeks. Mrs. Ford has received a number of flattering offers from Chicago publishers to arrange her poetry to music and it is for this purpose that she has gone to the city.
She will stop at "The Normandy" on Michigan avenue.

We wish to state to our patrons that One Minute Cough Cure is a safe and reliable remedy for children troubled with croup, colds, hoarseness and lung troubles. It is pleasant to take,
and quickly cures. C. D. Stevens.

NO WARD CHANGES UNTIL NEXT JUNE

AN ACTION PROBABLE BEFORE THE STATE CENSUS.

The Bill Passed By the Legislatures Gives City Councils the Power to Make Alterations—Another Measure Allow All Cities of 12,000 or More People to Pay their Mayor.

Two important bills passed the state legislature last week which Janesville people will be interested in, inasmuch as both will affect the future of the city. The bills now only await the approval of the governor and publication to become laws. One provides for paying the mayors of cities a salary, while the other relates to changes in ward boundaries. The latter law will probably not be acted upon by the Janesville common council until after the state census are taken, in June next. It reads as follows:

Section 1. The common council of any city in the state of Wisconsin which shall have been incorporated under special charter, shall have power to change the number and boundaries of the wards in such city by ordinance adopted by a vote of at least three-fourths of all the members of the common council; provided that such ordinance shall be introduced at a regular meeting of such common council, and before final action is taken thereon the same shall be published at least once each week for four successive weeks in some newspaper printed and published in such city, if there be one, otherwise in some newspaper to be designated by the common council; and when the boundaries and number of wards are fixed by any ordinance the number of wards in such city and boundaries thereof, or of any of said wards, shall not be again changed for a period of two years, except by adding thereto such territory as may at any time be added to the city limits; and provided further, that the territory of the wards shall be contiguous and compact, and that no ward having a population of less than two thousand shall be created in any city having a population of one hundred thousand or over, or less than fifteen hundred in any city having a population of ten thousand or over, or less than one thousand in any city having a population of less than ten thousand by last previous census taken by the United States of Wisconsin, and provided further, that this act shall not apply to any city having provision in its charter for the change of the number and boundaries of the wards therein.

Section 2. Whenever the number of wards in any city shall be changed in the manner aforesaid, and a new ward or wards created, such new ward or wards shall have the same number of aldermen, supervisors and ward officers, and shall be in all respects subject to the provisions of the charter of such city the same as wards created by such charter.

The bill in regard to salaries for mayor is as follows:

Section 1. The payment of a salary of any city is hereby authorized, the amount of said salary to be fixed in the same manner as the salaries of other city officers.

Section 2. This act shall be constructed to be an amendment to every city charter wherein a similar provision does not already exist.

THE EDUCATION OF CHILDREN

Paper Read By Miss Anna Duggan at the Afton Institute.

The following paper was read at the Afton farmers' institute by Miss Anna Duggan:

A man without an education has been likened to a precious metal in its raw state, and does it not seem true? How many well meaning people do we see who have been deprived of the advantage of an education, whose refined and intellectual faculties have been left unworked! Education is refining, cultivating and enlightening. By giving your boys and girls a thorough education you are bestowing riches upon them which can neither be lost nor stolen. You are placing them on an equal and in many cases superior footing to that of the children of the millionaire, for are we not all aware that the educated man who is not blessed with this world's goods is obliged to utilize his knowledge, consequently strengthening his growth while the education of the wealthy in many cases is left to rust. We see instances of this character exemplified in the history of many of our eminent men. Furthermore, by the education of children you are lessening the number of reformatories and prisons, you are subduing the evil of intemperance, in a word you are making the world better.

The object of education is not the cramping of a vast amount of facts in the child's mind while at school, but it is the laying of a foundation upon which he may build his house of knowledge. President Eliot truly tells us that the object of education is to give the pupil the power of doing for himself an endless variety of things, which, if uneducated, he could not do. To attain this end, children should be entrusted to only the best and most efficient teachers.
Let us take a view of the matter and listen to the conversation between those two members of the school board who are discussing the hiring of their teacher. Mr. Jones asserts that most anyone will do, and as the children are all small they will be able to hire a pretty cheap teacher. It is true this man deserves censure, but rather let us pity his weakness, for he has yet to learn that at no stage of child's life should he be placed under the supervision of a poor teacher, and especially during his first days of school. A poor teacher is dear at any price.

While it is a pleasure to think that all men entrusted with school affairs are not so negligent, am I not justified in saying that there are a few such characters? Men whose attention in the line of education is seldom arrested, except with a view to save a few paltry dollars. It has been the custom for many years to sing the praise of the city school and to point to it as the one important step towards the attainment of perfection in the evolution of education. I am inclined to think differently, and will hazard the assertion that we all shall yet come to see that the ideal school is the school of all grades. I am aware that there is a great deal to be said on both sides of the question, but there are some strong reasons for the opinion that the district school affords more natural conditions for healthy growth and character than do the city school. Indeed the district school is more the nature of a large family and I believe the family supplies the most natural condition for the normal development of children.

The task imposed upon the teacher of the district school is greater by far than that imposed by the graded school. He must be primary, intermediate and grammar school teacher, all in one, and must fuse the different elements into one organic whole. It demands the services of the most capable men and women in the state, and our people meet this demand in many instances by employing children, as you might say, or by permitting inefficient men and women to attempt to perform this service. They demand ability of those whom they employ to take care of their business or property, but of those who are to educate or care for their children in the most critical period of their development they make no demands of either ability or maturity in very many cases. The place that should demand the best teacher is the district school, and let us hope that it will yet be made manifest that the best place for the early development of the powers of boys and girls is the country school that is well taught. It seems to me that in the hiring of a teacher much trouble would be avoided and better results attained if the counsel of the superintendent was more freely solicited.
As a general thing, he knows best the ability of the teacher and the character of the school, consequently he will be best able to determine the appointments of the various positions.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the progress of education in our district school is the irregularity of attendance. Children are retained at home for work or trivial excuses, without a thought of the demoralizing effect it has upon the school. Allow me to demonstrate the evil effects by a picture which may be described as follows: John is not present for some reason, but Kate, his classmate, is, and of course, recites her lesson and has new ones assigned for the following day. The next day John is on hand but he knows nothing about the lesson for the day, consequently the teacher is obliged to devote considerable time in explaining not only today's but yesterday's lesson, and the amount of it is that Kate receives but a little fresh information, as most of her time in the class has been spent in helping John. Should this practice of non-attendance be kept up, the teacher so as to do justice to all allows the class to proceed, consequently poor John, to use a homely expression, gets but a bite here and there of the knowledge of the book, and in the long run loses all interest and finally drops out of school. Our compulsory educational law does not cover the ground. Let us frame another that will have as firm a grip as other neces-ary laws. We have talent enough to frame laws in other departments of legislative work, let the same talent be exercised here and the difficulty will be removed. Converse with a man who has been deprived of an education and you will find that the majority of such will curse their parents for their misfortune. I sincerely believe that the parent who fails to provide for the education of his children will have a vast amount to answer for. No doubt you think I have said enough, possibly too much, with regard to the stand parents and school officers should take. Indeed I feel I have but but tampered with so serious a subject by expressing my meagre thoughts and as I do not believe in covering ones own weakness by speaking of others, I will turn my attention to the teaching force and see what part the teacher plays in the drama of education. No position, no, not even the preacher, is as responsible as that of the teacher.

Although unfortunate for the cause of education, I happen to be in the field as a worker, and I must say that I have often regretted the assuming of such a responsibility. I once heard a professional man say that no one but a truly good character should be allowed to educate the young, and if a teacher desires to have good boys and girls they must aim at perfection themselves. This statement is too true and to fully realize it is enough to make many of us blush for shame. No negligence is more pernicious than that of the teacher who wastes his pupil's time. I suppose he does his best but that will not excuse him if he has no capacity for teaching he is committing a great crime.
He ought to stop pretending to teach and do something of which he is capable. Let it never be forgotten that the teacher's gifts are as rare as the poet's.
With the children of the rich wasted time is not so grievous a loss, for their school days stretch over a longer term of years, and what they lose in the

CAPT. W. E. EVENSON OVERCOME BY GAS

COMMANDER OF THE FIRE PO-LICE'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Automatic Burner Went Out in the Night and the Deadly Fluid Filled the Room—Alarm Clock Awakened Him in Time for Him to Reach the Air.

Captain W. E. Evenson, of the Fire Police, has an alarm clock in his sleeping room, third floor of the Jackson block, to which he is indebted for his life, as it awoke him Sunday morning and saved him from asphyxiation. He had vitality enough left to realize the trouble and danger he was in, and mustered all his strength, rolled out of bed, crept to the door and swung it open. The fresh air revived him somewhat, and restoratives were applied, so that by noon he had almost fully recovered.

"It was a narrow escape for me," he said, while he was climbing a ladder at the depot fire. "I thought I was about to climb the 'golden stairs' instead of the aerial ladder."

Captain Evenson has an automatic gas burner in his sleeping room which he leaves lighted but turned down low, at night. When an alarm comes in the gas is turned on by the electric current. The gas went out this time, after Mr. Evenson went to sleep, and the rooms were soon heavy with the fumes. If the alarm clock had not sounded just when it did the captain might have taken another kind of a ride in the patrol wagon.

A DAY ON THE CITY STREETS

ANOTHER full house—It is seldom that an entertainment gets two such full houses as Beach & Bowers' minstrels have received this week in their engagement. Monday night the house was packed, and last night it was jammed. "These people could play for a month to a full house," said an old theatre-goer last night to an exchange reporter and the scribe coincided. This is the last night and even political anxiety will not keep the people away.—Sioux City Daily

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Yellow, Yellowish Red and Turquoise Blue
Are the Most Favored Tints.

A lovely vivid yellow for evening wear is andalouse, and other yellow tints, shading from old ivory to golden yellow, are ivoire, creme, paille, genet, ebenier and Cleopatra. An opal white is very rich for evening wear. The favorite evening shades are rose pink, cream and pale yellow. Sarah is a pinkish yellow that lacks style, and bengaline is a pretty mauve. Two reddish pinks are caprice and meteor. Cerise or cherry red has been an immense favorite in Paris since last spring. The pinkish reds, aubepine, eglantine, reine, pivoine and Jacqueminot, have had a long run in Paris and combine well with any dark color. They are as useful in millinery as in costumes. The tendency toward yellowish red is shown in the shade known as giroflée. Two navy shades appear each season under the long familiar names of marine and matelot. Pale or baby blues are ciel and azure, and two lovely greenish or turquoise shades are colibri and azurine. Black will be very fashionable whether worn alone or as a combination.

Two clear dark greens, russe and emerald, will be especially rich in velvet and ladies' cloth for costumes and capes. The grayish red or reseda shades are the newest and most effective greens, being known as reseda, red, mignonette, roseau and sedum. Brick reds of a rich shade are brique and sigurd, showing that terra cotta is returning in these days of odd shades in red.

An illustration is given of a striking reception gown of magenta velvet. Unlike the larger number of gowns, it has an ample train. The front breadth is outlined by two bands of white satin galloon embroidered with ruby cabochons. Near the foot bands of wider galloon form an inverted V, the point of which is hidden under a white satin bow. The décolletage of the plain bodice is pointed behind and square in front and is edged by wide galloon. White satin bows adorn the shoulders and the corners of the décolletage. The draped velvet sleeve is lined with white satin and leaves the arm uncovered.

THE VALUE OF DRESS.

The Coming Woman Will Dress Artistically Even if More Hygienically.

At 16 a girl needs less in the way of adornment than at any other age. This does not imply that she may safely dress without care. On the contrary, any woman, be she young or old, should spend a reasonable amount of time on her toilet if she would be pleasant to look upon. The plainest girl may give great satisfaction to her friends by a tasteful, agreeable costume, which is not necessarily expensive or elaborate.

Many a girl student undervalues the importance of dress under the impression that it shows her strong mindedness, that she is a "coming woman," but the coming woman will be fully as well dressed as the going one, although probably more hygienically. The effect of education and development is not to destroy the sense of beauty and fitness, but to give a truer perception and appreciation of them. There are girls and women who attempt to take a short cut to intellectuality by straining the hair back from the face very tight and flat, wearing scant skirts when these are out of date, and heroically eschewing ruffles, but mental power and cultivation are not attainable by means of external applications, and the woman who is narrow and shallow in a pretty gown will be equally narrow and shallow and less pleasing to the eye in an ugly one. Dress has a greater influence on the mind of the wearer than is generally understood. The consciousness of a becoming gown and an attractive appearance raises the spirits, lessens awkwardness and gives a degree of self confidence to even the timid. It is as great a mistake to underestimate the power of dress as to overestimate it.

An illustration is given of a walking costume of nickel bengaline. The skirt has godets at the back and is trimmed around the foot by a narrow band of sable. Above this is an application of gray and silver embroidery, and long points of the same decoration are placed at either side of the front breadth. The bodice consists of a pointed corset of bengaline similarly embroidered, the upper part edged with sable, which forms straps over the shoulders. Under the corset is a full gump of granitum velvet. The sleeve puffs are also of velvet and the deep cuffs of bengaline.

A Romance of Pronouns.

It was evening. It was moonlight. It was late and it was fair:
I was courting. I was happy. I was brave, for she was there.
She was pretty. She was blushing. She was willing to be wed—He arrived and he objected. He was papa, so I fled.
I returned. He was repentant. She was coaxing her mamma.
He relented, and I thanked him and forgave him—dear papa!
Then he blessed us. I was happy, while she blushed a rosy red.
He was willing. She was willing. I was willing. We were wed.
—Alex. H. Laidlow, Jr., in Vogue.

Going to Economize.

Wife—This house isn't a bit too big. Those two extra rooms can be used as store rooms.
Husband—Huh! What will you store in 'em?
"You said I must be very economical, didn't you?"
"Of course."
"Well, I'll soon get them filled with things I buy at bargain sales and can't use."—N. Y. Weekly.

THE MICROSCOPE.

A careful microscopical examination and chemical analysis of the urine, is a valuable aid in determining the nature of many chronic diseases, particularly those of the nervous system, blood, liver, kidneys, and bladder. These aids make it possible to treat such diseases successfully at a distance, without personal examination of the patient. Thus Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Inflammation of the Bladder, Gravel, and other Diseases of the Urinary Organs are successfully treated; Nervous Debility, Exhaustion, Dropsy, Liver Disease, and many other Chronic Maladies are cured without seeing the patient. Write for question blanks, treatise, and other information, describing case, and inclose 10 cents, in stamps, to pay postage.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1745—Alexander Volta, discoverer of voltaism, born, died 1827. Volta gained celebrity as an electrician and natural philosopher. He invented electrical apparatus and improved on the work of his countryman Galvani, discoverer of galvanism. Volta invented the pile, which produces continuous electric currents by the contact of different substances. Napoleon encouraged his experiments and conferred upon him the title of count and the office of senator of the kingdom of Italy. The term volt, which means the practical unit of electromotive force, is a contraction from Volta.

1785—George Peabody, financier and philanthropist, born in Danvers, Mass.; died 1869.

1805—Rear Admiral Louis Malesherber Goldsborough, U. S. N., born in Washington; died there 1877.

1870—Charlotte S. Cushman, tragedienne, died in Boston; born there 1816.

1894—William T. Stansbury, a typesetter on the Baltimore Sun since 1837, died in Baltimore; born 1816.

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN.

A great deal has been said and written about maintaining the parity between gold and silver and the question of vital importance in the minds of a great many people has seemed to be that silver values must be maintained at all hazards. An exchange says with a good deal of significance in speaking of the bond issue:

"If the parity between gold and silver is to be maintained, then there is no objection to making these bonds payable in gold instead of in coin, for the two words will mean the same thing. But there is all the difference in the world in the immediate practical effect of the difference in phrasing. For while one class of bonds can be marketed in Europe for gold to replenish the reserve, the other would not be salable anywhere at all; and their issue would, consequently, be without any relieving effect upon the treasury or the financial situation."

That England should dictate terms to the United States, is one of the most humiliating features of the democratic administration. This is especially true when it is considered that $100,000,000 gold-bearing 2½ per cent bonds of small denominations, could be placed at home within thirty days from date of issue.

Democracy has not only ruined the business of the country at home, but it has damaged our credit abroad, to such an extent that a premium of $10,000,000 is not only demanded but obtained, on a comparatively small loan.

There is only one way to stop government loans, and that is to plug up the rat holes and provide for deficiencies. This is a secret, unknown to democracy.

The republicans were able to extend $25,000,000, 3½ per cent bonds three years ago at 2 per cent. Democracy pays 3½ per cent today. What makes the difference?

MARY A. TUPPER

IN A WOMAN'S PRISON.

Restored to Her Husband at Wilton, Me., After Months of Suffering.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women's prisons are not always built of iron bars and solid masonry. It is easy to shut women up from the beautiful, joyous world without these means.

Mrs. Mary A. Tupper has been released at Wilton, Me., from the custody of extreme female weakness and nervousness which kept her a prisoner in bed, unable to walk.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound went to the root of her trouble, and gave her the liberty of health, so that after taking two bottles she was able to go out of doors and surprise her husband and friends by her rapid improvement.

She says: "Women should beware of dizziness, sudden faintness, headache, extreme lassitude and depression. They are danger signals of female weakness, or some derangement of the uterus or womb. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and be thankful for your life as I am. It only costs a dollar to try it, and the result is worth millions. Ask some druggist about it."

ALICOR CASE WAR RAGES AT CLINTON

THE TOWN DIVIDED OVER AN EXISE PROSECUTION.

Barn Belonging to T. W. Kammerer, a Member of the Village Board Who Was Active In Pushing the Case Against Jay Johnson Burned Mysteriously—$250 Reward Offered

CLINTON is in the throes of civil war. Some days ago Jay Johnson and his brother Seth were arrested on the charge of selling liquor contrary to law. The village board caused their arrest, and T. W. Kammerer, one of the members of the board, was the prime mover in the prosecution, it is said. The trial was to have occurred several days ago, but when the case came before the court the defense claimed that one of their material witnesses was absent and it was adjourned. Many W. C. T. U. ladies were in the audience when the case came up and some of the sympathizers with the defendant suggested that they "smoke 'em out." Cigars suddenly appeared and were lighted and the room became blue but the ladies were not to be "bluffed" and held their ground. The crowd was so large that they had to adjourn from the justice office to the city hall and the audience was much disappointed when the case went over. District Attorney Jackson appeared for the state and C. B. Sumner of Delavan for the defense. The next chapter came night before last when Mr. Kammerer's barn was burned to the ground. The cause of the fire is a mystery that many temperance people think they could solve. The town was all stirred up over the liquor case, but the fire increased the feeling until the militia may have to be called to keep them from slaying each other. In the meantime a reward of $250 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the one who applied the torch.

On Friday last a large setter dog made a visit to the habitation of W. Houghton, 107 South Main street, being in the habit, apparently, of paying such visits and swallowing things, but made a serious mistake by eating two white glass nest eggs. Mr. Houghton caught the dog in the act and clubbed him. This canine had rather an indigestible meal, and anyone owning such a dog will understand he died of stealing and eating glass nest eggs.

CELL FOR O'ROURKE IN WAUPUN PRISON

WILL PLEAD GUILTY TO A CHARGE OF LARCENY.

Admits He Stole E. D. Hendrickson's $150 Gold Watch and Will Take His Medicine—Mean Trick Was Worked On the Old Man Who Had Given Them Money.

Lewis O'Rourke, alias "Biddy" is now making his plans for a term at Waupun prison. The larceny of a gold watch valued at $150 and owned by A. D. Hendrickson was the charge preferred against him in the municipal court this morning. He waived examination and will plead guilty. The case will come up again Feb. 26 and in default of $300 bail O'Rourke is in jail.

O'Rourke's offence was about the meanest piece of business that he has ever mixed up in. He and "Darb" Griffin, "Jim" Nash and Harry Wade, the tramp, called at the home of Mr. Hendrickson while they were on their sewing machine repairing trip. Mr. Hendrickson was superintendent of the Waukesha industrial school in 1878, at which time O'Rourke was a pupil in that institution. When Mr. Hendrickson answered the bell, O'Rourke told him that he was a member of the school when Mr. Hendrickson was superintendent, and asked him for money to buy something to eat for himself, and friend.

"I can get a good meal down town for fifteen cents," he explained so Mr. Hendrickson gave him thirty cents.

"What is your name?" Mr. Hendrickson asked.

"Harry Bird" O'Rourke answered.

"I have a record of all the boys who were with me" Mr. Hendrickson replied. "If you will step in I will see if I can find your name on the list."

O'Rourke and Griffin went into the house and sat down. Mr. Hendrickson had been dressing to go out to tea and his vest lay before the two men.

In the pocket tucked a gold watch that cost $165. While Mr. Hendrickson was looking up the record O'Rourke took the watch and at this minute the door bell rang again.

While all this was going on in the back part of the house, Wade was watching outside, and it was he who pulled the door bell. Mr. Hendrickson went to answer the bell.

"Is this Mr. Hendrickson's home?" asked Wade.

"Yes, sir," replied the old gentleman.

"I was sent here by the liverymen to tell you that your carriage was in waiting," said Wade.

"There must be some mistake, I have not ordered a carriage," said Hendrickson.

Holding the old man in conversation a few moments, Wade excused himself and left. When Mr. Hendrickson went back where he had left O'Rourke and Griffin, he found they had gone, taking his watch with them. He at once started out for an officer.

In the mean time Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan had appeared upon the scene and captured Griffin, Nash and Wade. O'Rourke had escaped and seeing that the "jig was up" and that the police were after him tried to square up the watch deal. He returned to Mr. Hendrickson's home and said: "Mr. Hendrickson, that man who was with me played you a mean deal. He took your watch, and I made him give it up. Here it is."

He then tried to make an agreement whereby he would not be punished for the theft but Mr. Hendrickson had no promises to make.

When O'Rourke was arrested he admitted the offense. The police found him in bed at the home of his mother. He got up without a word and while he was putting on his shoes his mother asked him what he had been doing.

"I thought it was about time for you to be getting into trouble again," she added as the police led him away.

"Darb" Griffin and "Jim" Nash are in jail, the former for sixty days and the latter for fifteen days as the result of their part of the deal. Both pleaded not guilty to a charge of common drunkenness Saturday but when they were brought into court this morning Nash announced that he would plead guilty.

"Fifteen days" said the court.

Then Griffin, who had heretofore refused to plead guilty and demanded a trial thought he'd plead guilty too, whereupon the court sentenced him to sixty days. That settled Darb and he didn't regain the faculty of speech until he had reached the jail.

BIG MEN.

They Can Learn a Lesson From the Little Newsboy.

On a street car platform the other day was a little newsboy kicking his toeless shoes once in a while to get warm and putting his hands quite through the pockets of his ragged jacket in his efforts to keep them away from the raw air. He looked jolly and happy, though, and whistled as he jumped about. Pretty soon another boy jumped on the car, a little bigger than the newsboy, but just about as ragged and poorly clothed. They knew each other evidently, for the newsboy cordially welcomed the second arrival with a "Hallo, Joe, how's luck to-day?"

Luck was bad, Joe said, and he was blue and discouraged. His friend tried hard to cheer him. "Now, don't you get down," he said, "you'll be all right soon. I hate to see you so blue. Now, look here, I've got some money," and he put his hand in one of his trousers' pockets and drew out some money, indeed, but very little. There was a ten and a five cent piece. "You take the ten, Joe; I've got to use five to ride back, but I don't want the ten a bit," and he made Joe take it. The boys rode away uptown with the passenger who was listening to their talk, and all the way the little fellow worked hard to cheer up Joe. So well did he succeed that when he left him Joe was laughing and happy. A good many boys wouldn't think they had much cheerfulness to spare or money to give away if they were poor, ragged little newsboys.

A STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT

And the Minister Tells the Story as Against Himself.

The Rev. George R. Dodson, the popular Unitarian minister of Alameda, Cal., tells rather a good story at his own expense. While spending his summer vacation at Skagg's Springs one of his greatest friends was a fellow boarder, a little girl about 8 years old. The two were constant companions, and the child daily accompanied the clergyman on his excursions in the neighborhood. One evening the little girl remarked to her fellow diners:

"I like going out with Mr. Dodson."

"Why," queried a stranger, hoping to draw the child out.

"Because he has no morals," was the startling reply.

When the summer boarders had recovered their equanimity they instituted an investigation, the upshot of which was the discovery that the curly-haired maiden possessed an insatiable craving for stories. This desire was frequently gratified by Mr. Dodson, but unlike the anecdotes of the child's mother, the minister's tales were never pointed with a moral for the youngster's government.

Like a Sieve.

The chief functions of the kidneys is to separate from the blood, in its passage through them, of certain impurities and watery particles which make their final exit through the bladder. The retention of these, in consequence of inactivity of the kidneys, is productive of Bright's disease, dropsy, diabetes, albuminuria and other maladies with a fatal tendency. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a highly sanctioned diuretic and blood purifier, impels the kidneys when inactive to renew their sifting function and the vital current impurities which infest it and threaten their own existence as organs of the body. Catarrh of the bladder, gravel and retention of the urine are also maladies arrested or averted by this benign promoter and restorative of organic action. Malaria, rheumatism, constipation, biliousness and dyspepsia also yield to the Bitters, which is also speedily beneficial to the weak and nervous.

The school should furnish them with knowledge that will help them live and become good men and women. Knowledge that will be servicable in earning a living and aid them in making their way through life.

A good fundamental instruction is the birthright of every boy and girl, and the common school that cannot furnish this has no reason for existence. Furthermore, the teacher who turns out pupils half instructed, cannot take shelter behind the bible from the reproach he richly deserves. It has been remarked that a number of lady teachers use the occupation simply to fill in a few years until an eligible marriage overtakes them. I trust this assertion is not true, but let me whisper to my lady friends (I know, of course, from experience) that the more time you spend in matrimonial prospects, the fewer the opportunities present themselves. Apart from the jovial side of the matter, let me say that the conscientious teacher should be so engrossed in her work, while in the school room, as not to allow room for anything else to occupy her attention. Bearing in mind the brief time the majority of children can spend in school and the vital importance a thorough common school training will be to them after life, it should be the duty of all connected with school matters to do their utmost in improving the growth and progress of education.

If you desire a better nation, a better government, if you would have better men and women, I appeal to you to educate the children.

This is a special stock. True the quantities are large and the prices low. Don't let that prevent you from seizing the earliest spare time you have to come and see the goods. The prices are so incredibly low that any day may bring such an overwhelming business, as the news gets around, that you may miss something you'll wish you hadn't.

THE GENTILES.

WHAT BABY WILL GET
THE GAZETTE'S $500

THAT IS THE PRIZE TO BE AWARDED JUNE 1.

The Brightest, Sweetest and Loveliest Child in the City Will Be Given Five Shares of Paid Up Stock in the Rock County Building & Loan Association.

The sweetest, brightest and loveliest baby in Janesville gets $500 from The Gazette June 1.

Whose is that baby?

"That question sounds easy."

As if there was the least doubt whose baby is the loveliest," says every proud mother looking at her own olive branch. And that's the trouble. Talk it over until Christmas you may but never expect to get a convention of mothers to agree on the baby question.

For the benefit of jealous parents, anxious aunts and uncles and proud brothers and sisters of older growth, however, the matter should be settled.
And settled it is to be.

How?

Why not by vote?

That plan seems the fairest and most satisfactory—the safest too, for who would dare judge among the hundreds of dimpled darlings that grace the Bower City. A vote will decide, therefore, and all Janesville may cast their ballots. Three months from the day the polls open a $500 block of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association will be turned over to the infant with the strongest "drag", as politicians would put it.

Five hundred dollars.

A handsome nest egg for any infant.

Put out at interest until the little one reaches maturity and it swells to proportions even more impressive.
And in building association stock with all dues paid it is in very desirable form.

The association selected is known to everybody in the city. These are the officers and directors who testify to its solidity. These are the men:

President—Samuel C. Cobb.

First Vice President—Alex. Graham.

Second Vice President—W. H. Judd.

Attorney—Charles E. Pierce.

Secretary—George L. Carrington.

Treasurer—Isaac Farnsworth.

Directors—S. C. Cobb, Alex.

Graham, Dr. William H. Judd, L. B.

Reynolds, Miss Lizzie Paterson, James

E. Fifield, George L. Carrington, E.

W. Lowell, S. B. Lewis, Archie Reid,

F. M. Marzuff, H. F. Bliss.

These officers and directors stand behind every share of the association's stock. Five shares of this stock is now in the association's keeping subject to the Gazette's order. Polls will be open in the Gazette office March 1 and will remain open until June 1.

The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9
p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.
